

Nurturing academic excellence, creativity and social responsibility in students

Established in 1999 by the veteran academic visionary S D Sharma, The Lexicon Group of Institutes is a premier group of institutes redefining education in the sectors of pre-schools, high schools and post-graduate management studies. Led by president Pankaj Sharma, the educational institutes have been recognized as the pioneers of international standard of education in India.

Over the last two decades, the group has become synonymous with excellence, intelligence, hard work, value education, and high-quality education services. Their Lexicon kids pre-schools and schools are hubs of child-centric teaching and learning, where every child is given an opportunity to experience holistic growth.

Their Management Institute of Leadership and Excellence (MILE), is a leading post-graduate institute of management studies, where students experience the wide horizon of corporate and commercial aspirations.

Across the three schools, fifteen pre-schools, and MILE, the group is now home to almost 15,000 students. With an unwavering commitment towards excellence in education, the group's strength has grown almost a thousand times from its humble beginning with just 19 students.

"The Lexicon Group is our endeavour

Pankaj Sharma

The campus

to give every child an unparalleled opportunity to discover his/her unique brilliance. With an inimitable innovative pedagogy designed using new-age teaching methods, the group of institutes nurtures its students to garner both academic excellence, and social responsibility through value education," Pankaj Sharma, president of the group.

The group's vision is to remain true to its core values and mission. It embodies a child-centric approach of imparting education with inquiry, enthusiasm, and curiosity. All of the educational institutes incorporate the four pillars of trust, interest, capability, and values, and strive to raise respected citizens of tomorrow.

Today, the group has transformed its students to become confident, creative, and collaborative critical-thinkers of our country. With curricula designed keeping digital advancements and content-relevance in mind, each student is enabled with experiential learning, problem-solving and practical application. This balanced pedagogy of theoretical excellence and hands-on learning ensures that the students are prepared to achieve success in the real world.

ACHIEVEMENTS

The persistent diligence accompanying the group's vision has resulted in the institutes receiving recognition from various national and international educational bodies such as Forbes, British Council, BBC Knowledge Group, and the Times of India.

The group's president, Pankaj Sharma, is the recipient of Singapore's AsiaOne Asia's Greatest Emerging Leader Award and also the Times Pune Visionary Award. The Lexicon Group has also recently received the honour of the Best CSR Initiative in Pune (East Zone) by the Times of India.